

ANNOUNCEMENT - NEW MULTI-FORMAT BOOK

Documentary filmmaker Richard Leacock's multi-media memoir,
The Feeling of Being there - a filmmaker's memoir,
now released!

90 YEARS OF DOCUMENTARY FILM

Richard Leacock's The Feeling of Being There is now published as a printed Book and a Digital Video Book!

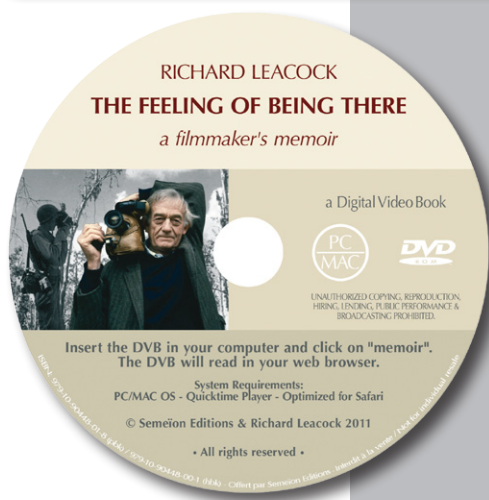

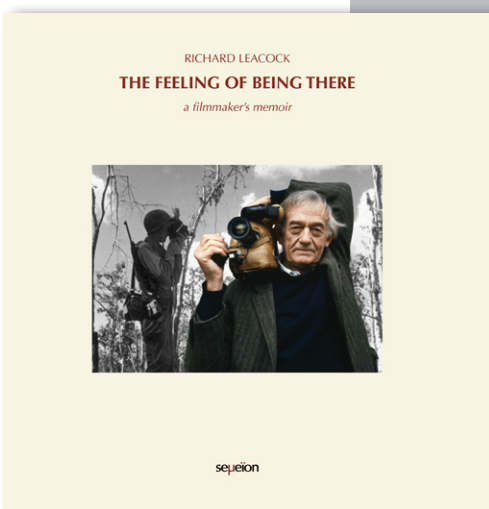

The Feeling of Being There is a riveting autobiographical epic spanning almost the entire history of cinema, seen through the eyes of one of its leading players. From Canary Bananas, his first film in 1935, to A Musical Adventure in Siberia, the memoir traces Leacock's personal life as a filmmaker and observer of key moments in the 20th century, filming with Flaherty, Drew Associates, Pennebaker, and many others. Richly illustrated, the exclusive book contains more than 290 drawings, photos and film stills. Always at the forefront of new technologies, Leacock's memoir is published as a book and a DVB (DigitalVideoBook) containing more than 100 film excerpts, richly intertwined with the gripping storyline.
